THE IXHUMAN TURKS

They Were Far More Brutal Than Their Kurdish Allies.

ANOTHER CHAPTER OF HORRORS.

The Sworn Statement of a Rurd Who Was Interviewed by a Trustworthy Correspondent of the London Times-The Terrible Death Pit at Djellyegoozan.

London, March 29.-The Times publishes a long report on the Armenian atrocities written by a competent and trustworthy man, who made a personal investigation on the spot. This report was written in January, but only arrived in London yesterday. The writer says he is convinced that both in 1893 and 1894 the Turkish government gave both oral and written orders to the Kurds to attack the Armenians, promising them the booty and relieving them of the responsibility for the consequences. In the first attacks made upon them the Armenians defeated the Kurds. Undoubtedly but for Turkish help the Kurds would have been unable to have gained a permanent victory. The Kurds in the earlier skirmishes did not harm women and children. Even when incited by the Turks they did little in comparison with the latter.

The account proceeds to confirm the pit Incident and the report of the governor of Bitlis reading at Djellyegoozan the sultan's firman ordering the Kurds to desiroy the disaffected villages, sparing nothing, for their sultan and prophet. This oc-curred about the middle of August, and the massacre which followed beggars all description. The occidentals of the nineteenth century cannot comprehend it.

Youths were bound, covered with brush-wood and burned alive. Others were hacked to pieces. At Shenig a house filled with fifty men, women and children was set on fire and all were cremated. The officers forced their men to acts of cruelty from which the latter shrank. A young priest at Dalvorig persuaded seventy of his followers to yield. They were ordered to dig a trench, and when enough earth had been thrown up all were backed to pieces and east into the trench. Priests suffered horrible deaths. One was thrown into the air and allowed to fall on a number of bayonets that had been stuck upright into the ground.

A correspondent investigating the circumstances of the atrocities perpetrated in Armenia recently telegraphed another version of the story concerning the death pit at Djellyegoozan. He said that the refugees on Mount Andok were inveigled back to the village on the assurance that the authorities desired the re-establishment of peace in the district. Hearing this Priest Ohannes went with about 300 persons to the camp, where they were well received. They were asked to remain a few hours in the camp. Meanwhile soldiers were busy digging a big pit behind the house of a village elder, a man named Bedo.

About 6 o'clock in the evening Priest Ohannes was taken, and the cross and the gospel were flung at his feet, and he was ordered by the Turkish officer to trample on them. He refused, and the officer ordered the soldiers to gouge out his eyes. Then they gave him a pocket handkerchief and commanded him to dance. Next Armenians were distributed among the soldiers and killed with bayonets and flung into the pit, dead or dying. The only two Armenians who escaped were a merchant named Avak and Pia Ohan Zoroyan, the latter getting away after he had received twelve bayonet wounds.

The correspondent attached great imnortance to the statement of a Kurd "who killed many innocent women and children in Sassoun," and with whom he "ex-changed daggers." The correspondent took this man's deposition before respectable non-Armenian witnesses, and from this deposition he telegraphed the following blood curdling extracts:

The Turkish soldiers took little children by the feet and dashed them against stones. I saw an Armenian priest. Soldiers tortured him, squeezing his neck, gouging out his eyes and tearing of his flesh with pincers. We hate that; we only stab or bayonet or cut off heads. We dislike needless pain. I saw a Turkish sergeant bind an old Armenian head downwards to two or three branches and slowly cut him through with an ax.

Armenians who implored protection and surrendered were butchered at night. I saw it done. The soldiers stood in double line of three on each side. The Armenians were marched in, their hands tied, and they were then bayoneted and flung into the pit. Not all were dead when thrown in the pit. I saw soldiers take a woman and stand around her joking and making bets as to the sex of her unborn child. She was then cut open and the money was paid to the scoundrel who had guessed rightly. "The Kurds killed people with bullets and daggers, but the soldiers delighted in torture. They put some to death with scissors, cutting them and opening veins in the neck. Others were sawed, others had the tongue cut out, eyes gouged out, and several fingers cut off before death. I saw men and women thus mutilated, and they lay about the camp for two hours befere they were killed."

Among four new measures introduced in the senate was one by Mr. Penrose prohibiting minors from working more than fifty-five hours a week in manufactories and workships.

Six Fell Two Hundred Feet to Death. BUDAPEST, March 29.-Six men were killed by the falling of the cage in a silver mine in Schmenitz, Hungary. The catastrophe was caused by neglect on the part of the workman who was guiding the cage in which the men were ascending the shaft. He had become exhausted from watching several nights at the bedside of his sick wife, and for a moment fell asleep. When the cage reached the top of the shaft it was not stopped and broke from its fastenings, falling with the men in 1t 200 feet into the pit. The workman who caused the accident has become in-

RIOTOUS GIRL CONVICTS. Three Wagon Loads of Police Called to

Sabdue Thirty of Them. CHICAGO, March 29.—Three members of the board of trustees of the State Home for Juvenile Female Offenders were given a practical illustration last evening of the insubordination which has reigned among the inmates for several weeks past. Mrs. Charles Henrotin, Mrs. J. D. Harvey and Mrs. G. M. Holt spent the afternoon at the home and took supper with the inmates. The thirty girls confined in the home took advantage of the presence of the representatives of the board of management to show what they could do in the way of rioting.

They succeeded so well that they smashed nearly all the crockery in the house, dismantled the dining room furniture, broke windows, threw the contents of the pantry about the premises, filled the air with shouts, and then refused to go to their rooms at the command of the police. It required three wagon loads of policemen to quell the riot, and it was found necessary to carry the majority of the girls to their rooms by main strength and to leave a policeman on guard through the night at the door of each room.

The outbreak was the result of a meeting held by the girls in the afternoon, when it was decided to show by breaking the furniture resentment for the partiality shown by the management, as claimed by the girls, for Mamie Davis, who was allowed to go home. Mamie Davis, the girls claim, was the ringleader among them.

At the supper table the girls were models of propriety, and listened to the remarks of Mrs. Henrotin and the other members of the board of managers with attention. These were calculated to show them the wrongfulness of insubordination.

During the riot Mrs. Henrotin and the other ladies were forced to remain in the room and witness the scene, the girls having locked the doors.

THE MANITOBA MUDDLE.

The Provincial Legislature Adjourns to May 9,

THUS POSTPONING THE QUESTION.

The Adjournment Taken to Avoid Hasty Action on a Matter of Gravest Importance-Catholics Declare the Government Is Shirking the Issue.

WINNIPEG, Man., March 29.-Premier Greenway made an official statement to the Manitoba legislature on the separate. or parochial school question. He com menced by stating that his government saw no reason why it should change its position in regard to the school system of Manitoba-national schools for all, and no separate schools.

The receipt of the message from Ottawa with a copy of the remedial order made by the Dominion government raised constiturional questions exceeding in gravity and importance, to his mind, any consti-tutional question that has heretofore arisen in any legislative assembly in Canada since the day when the Canadian provinces were confederated. These questions affected not only the province of Manitoba, but every province in the Dominion of Canada. In view of these facts the government had decided to ask that the legislature adjourn till May 9, in order that ample time may be given for full and deliberate consideration of the whole mat ter. The premier's remarks were received with cheers, and the motion to adjourn was agreed to at today's session.

The Catholics charge that this is an attempt to shirk the issue, but it is denied by the government. They say that the order from Ottawa is an unprecedented one and must be well weighed, or there is danger of a disruption of confederation.

The premier was asked by the Associated Press correspondent whether the Dominion government would be likely to take this adjournment of the local house as a refusal on the part of the province to act in the matter of the order. He replied that no such construction could be put upon the adjournment, inasmuch as the provincial government was taking the order into consideration. There was no likelihood that the Dominion government, having a clear three weeks of session before the provincial house meets again and sends its answer, will act in the matter before hearing from Manitoba.

You can depend upon it," said another minister, "that the Dominion government is not going to touch this school question any sooner than it has to. The important point in the matter is whether the reply of the provincial house will or will not be final, and whether the action of the Dominion government will or will not be final. Of course the Dominion government will not act until the reply from Manitoba is received. It is not a question to hurry over." Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper's resignamedial order, is the subject of much approving comment here. Briefly stated. Sir Charles Tupper's contention was that the Dominion government should have gone to the country on this important question, and should not have called a session at all.

The Orange lodge of Manitoba was in session here yesterday, and adopted resolutions denouncing interference by the central government in provincial educational affairs, and urging a public convention of all shades of political and religious opinions to act on the disputed question.

AT THE DOMINION CAPITAL. Greenway's Action in Adjourning the Man-

OTTAWA, March 29.-There is still great uncertainty regarding the political situation. As the matter now stands it is a case of Tupper versus Bowell. Premier Bowell insists on a session before dissolu-

It is thought here that Premier Green way, of Manitoba, has acted discreetly in the interests of his side of the school case in adjourning the legislature until May 9. instead of acting hastily by returning the order rejected to Ottawa. As the Dominion parliament meets April 18, the Ottawa government will now be forced to make their policy known in the speech from the throne and subsequent debates.

A Murderer's Fear of Death.

CHICAGO, March 29 - The trial of Sidney Cooper, the colored murderer of George Adams, also colored, created an exciting scene in court. When a juror was asked if he had any scruples against the death sentence Cooper, on hearing the word 'death,' fell back unconscious, and while bailifs tried to restore the terror stricken wretch his wife and children became wildly hysterical, and the screaming woman was removed to an ante-room. The hysteria spread to some of the female spectators, and for a moment pandemonium seemed imminent. All through the examination the murderer's face was blanched with fear.

A Maniac's Double Crime.

Sr. Louis, March 29. - An old lady named Katherine Kaiser, living at 1,130 Lynch street, was literally hacked to death by her nephew, C. L. Williams, who had been living with her for some time. A hatchet was the weapon used, and the woman's skull was laid open in several places. When the infuriated man had completed the deed he secured a knife and made several gashes in his own throat. Medical aid was unavailing in either case. Temporary insanity is thought to be the cause of the deed.

One Witness Declares That to Have Used the Amount of Paint Paid for for the State House He Would Have Used a

TRENTON, March 29. - The senate investigating committee resumed its sittings in the senate chamber with all the members of the committee present. William H. Corbin. counsel for the committee, referred to various sales of state property by Superintendent Forl in 1891, 1892 and 1893, but said he could find no records in any of the state offices of these sales. John Riker, a clerk in the treasurer's office, was called, and testifled that he had made a search of the books in that office and had found only three returns of these sales, one for $2.061.21, another for $1,050.29 and another for $703.55. There was no itemized statement. A public sale of furniture advertised to take place in December, 1893, was not reported at all. John Cornell, an employe at the capitol, testified that he acted as clerk for a sale in December, 1893, which amounted to $114.05. No return has ever been made of it. In January, 1895, he sent a record to Ford at the latter's request.

Mr. Corbin stated to the committee that up to 1894, while Ford was in power, substantially everything in the way of carpets and furniture was sold. Even the safes were sold. Some of the furniture was replaced twice, and there was no record of it. It cost from $120,000 to $125,000 to replace it. There was returned from $3,000 to $4,000, but nothing at all from the last sale. The matter was managed as though private property.

Mr. Corbin next went into some of the expenses in the executive department. During Governor Greene's administration the bills for postage ran $501 a year. In Governor Abbett's time they amounted to $547 a year, with an incidental account of $1,367. In the two years of Governor Werts' administration the postage averaged $390, and the incidentals $250.

Mr. Corbin next paid his compliments to Leon Abbett. Jr., the private secretary to his father when governor. In the first year of his official career, 1890, he received for various duties, including private secretary, $2,723; in 1891, $4,614; in 1892,

Mr. Corbin presented bills showing extravagance in caring for the capitol grounds. Grass seed and flowers cost in 1897 1313, in 1897 2508, in 1897 $1,938, and in the spring of 1894 $1,390. "

Henry J. Bennett, a painter of Trenton, was called to testify as to the cost of painting done by Kinnard & Co. He showed that Kinnard & Co. had charged for 1,005 pounds of mixed paint at fifteen cents per pound, and 145 days' labor at $3.50, and afterward had charged for different colors that went to make up the amount separately, thus getting paid twice. The witness was told that 2,993 pounds of paint were charged for on the exterior of the capitol, and was asked if that much could be used. "I could not put it on with a brush. I would have to use a trowel," was the reply.

L. A. R. Berrod, a fresco painter, gave the current prices for colors used in decorating, showing that Kinnard & Co. had charged from 50 to 100 per cent. above the current prices, and Mr. Corbin said this was in addition to the cost of the same material already charged for as mixed paint. For a picture moulding fifty-five cents a foot was charged, when they could be purchased for twenty cents.

Hugh Kinnard testified that Martin, who was his partner in the state house painting job, has been missing since last November, and that not even Martin's family knew of his whereabouts. Mr. Kinnard produced bills of wholesale dealers showing that Expert Berrod's testimonv about the price of colors was underestimated. The committee adjourned until Friday,

SAFETY IN WEAKING A BEARD.

Against Facial Paralysis. It is to be feared that too many doprive themselves of what Shake-peare calls "valor's exercment" without counting the possible cost. Whether the beard be an ornament to the musculme countenance we must leave the ladies to decide. It certainly has its uses in hiding a weak chin, and in some cases it seems to be cultivated as a vicarious compensation for a hairless scalp. It is not, however, in its cosmetic so much as in its hygienic aspects that the blessedness of the beard-in which term we include the whole of the harvest usually claimed by the razor—is most apparent That it is a safeguard to the throat is generally admitted. The writers of authority have insisted on its value as a protection against toothache and facial neuralgia. This is a goodly sum of advantages to the credit of the beard.

Dr. Chabbert of Toulouse has, however, yet more to say in its favor. According to this practitioner, the beard seems to be a very efficient defense against that form of facial paralysis which is caused by cold. This affection is far more common in women than in men, though the latter are of course much more exposed to the cause which produces it. When facial paralysis a frigore does occur in men, they are almost invariably individuals to whom nature has been stepmotherly in the matter of beard or have wantonly thrown away the protective covering with which she had clothed their faces. Dr. Chabbert cites the experience of several physicians, in addition to his own, is support of his opinion. Professor Andre of Toulouse has seen several cases of the affection in question in women, but not one in man. He had heard of one indeed which would appear to be an excellent example of the exception which proves the rule, for the patient was a "Ivric artist," with the faccia di musico so distasteful to Lord Byron. Professor Pitres of Bordeaux has seen 12 cases in women and only two in men. Both the latter shaved, though as one of them underwent that operation only twice a week bis case perhaps does not count for much unless it be held that his face was more vulnerable after these periodical denudations. Similar observations are quoted from Dr Olivier of Toulouse and Dr. Sude of Carman.

These facts, though hardly sufficient to found an induction on, seem at least to establish a prima facie case for the utility of the beard against facial paralysis of the kind referred to In these days, when man's traditional privileges are one by one being invaded by the "new woman, 'he may perhaps be forgiven for making the most of such advantages as may be considered exclusively his own. - British Medical Jour-

The Cost of Powder Puffs.

An English journal warns the London ladies that their powder puffs, those airy necessities of the toilet, are heavy with the blood of slanghtered innocents.

It is stated that as many as 20,000 young swans-cygnets, as they are called—are killed every year to supply this dainty flaff, to say nothing of innumerable young birds of the eider duck and wild goose variety. The bulk of these are imported, the swan and geese from the islands of the Baltic and from Norway and Sweden, and the eiders from the northern and more ice bound

One cygnet will make nearly a dozen average sized "puffs," which show how many women must be, to a greater or less extent, addicted to the use of powder.

The puff trade is highly profitable, as may be judged from the fact that the down of a cygnet costs little more than 25 cents, the poor creature often being plucked alive so that it may bear another crop, while the puffs are sold at from 75 cents upward, nicely mounted in bone and blue or pink satin, which ad-

Give Proper Food.

Liebig says, "The use of spirits is not the cause but an effect of poverty." The craving for stimulants in children as shown by the desire for tea and coffee often comes from the same source-that is, lack of a sufficient amount of the right kind of food. When a laborer earns by his work less than is required to provide the amount or kind of food which is indispensable in order to restore fully his working power, an unyielding, inexorable law of necessity compels him to have recourse to spirits. He must work, but in consequence of insufficient food a certain portion of his working power is daily wasting. Spirits by their action upon the nerves enable him to make up the deficient power at the expense of his body, to consume today that quantity which ought naturally to have been employed a day later. — Table Talk

It surprised many visitors to the Ohicago World's Fair to find that of all the blood purifiers, Ayer's Sarsaparilla was the only one on exhibition. The reason is that Ayer's Sarsaparilla is a standard remedy, and not a patent medicine, or secret nostrum.

Occasions Ween the Sun Became a Black and Deadened Orb.

The ancient historians mention several instances of the sun "going out" or failing to shine and give forth its usual amount of heat and light for perieds of time varying in length from three hours to several months. According to Plutarch, the year 44 B. C. was one in which the sun was "weak and pale" for a period approximating 11

The Portuguese historians record

'several months of diminished sunlight ' in the year 934 A. D., and, according to Humboldt, this uncanny period ended with "strange and startling sky phenomena, such as loud atmospheric explosions, rifts in the vaulted canopy of blue above and in divers other rare and unaccountable freaks." In the year 1091, on Sept. 29 (see Humboldt's 'Cosmos''), the sun turned suddenly black and remained so for three hours and did not regain its normal condition for several days. According to the noted Helmuth's "Solar Energy," the days of seeming inactivity on the part of the sun, the days following the sudden blackening of the great orb, were noted for a peculiar greenish tinge and are marked in old Spanish, French and Italian records as "the days of the green sun." February, 1106 A. D., is noted in the annals of marvelous phenomena as a mouth in which there were several days that "the sun appeared dead and black, like a great circular cinder floating in the sky."

"On the last day of February, 1206," says Cortevza, an old Spanish writer on astronomy, astrology and kindred subjects, "the sun appeared to suddenly go out, causing a darkness over the country for about six hours." In 1241 the European countries experienced another siege of supernatural darkness, which the superstitious writers of that time attributed to God's displeasure over the result of the great battle of Liegnitz. -St. Louis Republic

BOTH FOOD AND POISON.

The Wonderful Qualities of the Cassava Plant of Brazil.

Among the plants which supply food for man a foremost place must be given to the cassava or manioc plant, from which Rio tapioca is prepared, being a native of Rio de Janeiro and the warm provinces of Santa Catherina, Brazil, South America, where they employ improved machinery for preparing it, making it worth 18 cents per pound in the latter province.

The height to which the cassava plant attains varies from 4 to 6 feet. It rises by a slender, woody, knotted stalk, furnished with alternate palmated leave-, and springs from a tough, branched woody root, the tender collateral fibers of which swell into farinaceous parsniplike tubers, brown externally and of great size, sometimes weighing 30 pounds.

The rind being removed, the tubers are reduced to a pulp by rasping or by holding them against a wheel or grindstone. The pulp is washed with water. pressed and baked upon iron plates and now becomes Rio taproca, while the starch floats off in the water, in which form it is imported under the name of Brazilian arrowtoot.

Life and death are strangely blended in the cassava root." The juice is a rapidly destroying poison, the meal a nutritious and agreeable food. The poisonous juice of the tubers is removed by heat or washing, but if the recently extracted juice be drunk by cattle they soon die in convulsions. If it is boiled with meat and sea-oned, it forms a wholesome and very nutritious sonp. In Jamaica they make use of it to preserve the meat, game, poultry, etc., that are left after meals in what is known as the pepper pot, one family having kept a pot in use for this purpose for over 20 years. — Epicure.

Baked Beans and Brown Bread.

In a number of New England towns the local baker bakes beans for half the town. Saturday nights the pots are taken to the bakeshop, where the baker marks each one with the initials of the owner and places them in his big oven. Next morning the owners call for their beans and pay the charge of 10 cents and invest 10 more in brown bread. It is an amusing sight on a Sunday morning to see a line of citizens going from the bakeshop to their homes, each with a bean pot on one arm and a loaf of brown bread on the other.

Good, old fashioned brown bread is the proper accompaniment for baked beans. Here is a famous recipe for Boston brown bread of the proper kind: One cup of rye or graham flour, a cup of white flour, 2 cups of Indian meal, a cup of molasses (scant), 2 teaspoonfuls soda, one-halt teaspoonful salt, a cup of sour milk and 11% or 21% cups water. Steam for three hours and then dry in the oven for half an hour. The brown bread should be eaten warm, and what is left over can either be steamed again er toasted.-Exchange.

The Pennsylvania Senate, at the demand of the organized labor of the State, has passed an act requiring electric railroads to protect motor. men during the four winter months by enclosing the fronts of the cars.

The United States seems to have been the victim of a "gold brick" swindle. In the vault of the mint at Carson, Nev., a brick of base metal, thinly plated with gold, has been found. It had been substituted for a brick of gold worth $100,000.

Very progressive women are the Town Improvement women of Montclair.

The fondness of Populist statesmen for long beards gave the Sergeantat-Arms of the Nebraska Senate a great advantage in a row which he had, yesterday, in attempting to bring to order the Populist leader on the floor of the Senate. The Populist was truculent and defied the chair and, when the Sergeant-at-Arms was called on to suppress him, he quickly stopped the wagging of the Populistic jaw by a few pulls at the Populistic whiskers that adorn it.

REV. ARTHUR THOMPSON!

His Exceeding Kindness to the Accused in the Darwood Trial.

From the Warwick Advertiser. In addition to this Mr. Thompson showed great natural talent, courage, honesty and good judgment as gramme of next week's session of an advocate and trial officer in the church scandal which was last year made public by Rev. Dr. Darwood, of St. Paul's Church, in Middletown. Mr. Thompson was appointed by the conference to act as presecutor when Presiding Elder Mickle made his in vestigation of the charges against Dr. Darwood. Unbiased honesty, tempered always by exceeding kindness, characterized his conduct there. It was known at the time that considerable evidence against the defendant was not presented, being deemed unnecessary. These references might be considered unnecessary at this time if it were not for the fact that, when the jury of elergymen held Dr. Darwood for trial at conference, members of the official board of that church indulged in personal abuse and threats against Mr. Thompson.

This brave, devoted, untiring and studious young pustor leaves the Warwick Church with the highest esteem of the whole community.

Rev. Marion Lnw at Grace Church,

The Rev. Marion Law, curate of Holy Trinity, New York, preached an excellent sermon at Grace Church, last evening. His subject was "The Vision of God," which comes to every man born into the world. Such a vision, when it comes, is God's call to the ideal life. Illustrations were given from the lives of men who had responded to that call and by so doing impressed their individuality upon the pages of history. The false ideals that men set up were described, and with a fine quotation from Holmes's beautiful poem, "The Chambered Nautilus," the preacher urged his audience to tuin from idols and serve the living

HIGHER PRICES FOR MEATS.

The Reason for the Advance—The Swift Company Refuses to Bid for the State Hospital Contract,

Within the past few weeks there has been a marked advance in the prices of cattle in the Chicago market and, yesterday, steers sold for $6.75 per hundred pounds, the highest price in eleven years. The reason for the advance is that the supply of cattle is very small, last season's drouth having caused breeders to make large shipments last fall.

As a result of higher prices for cattle on the hoof, prices for dressed beef have been advanced. Prices at the Swift Company's refrigerator in this city are $2 to $2 50 per hundred higher than they were a month ago. There has also been a corresponding advance in the prices of pork, mutton and lamb,

Owing to the uncertain prospects of the market the Swift Company, whose six months' contract for supplying the State Hospital with meat expires, April 1st, refused to bid for a renewal of the contract for any specified time and the contract was awarded to Ottman & Co., of New York, the lowest of three pid-

STRUCK BY AN ELECTRIC CAR-Wm. H. McCarter Knocked Down on Academy Lavenue-His Injuries Not Thought to be Serious.

Mr. Wm. H. McCarter was struck by electric car No. 15, Mosher conductor and Sparks motorman, at 1 o'clock, this afternoon, at the corner of Academy and Little avenues.

He was standing near the rail with several others who were watching the moving of a plane when the corner of the car struck him in the side, knocked him down and rolled him some distance.

He was picked up and taken to his home near by and a physician summoned. There were no bones broken but Mr. McCarter complains of severe pains in the side and hips.

Mr. McOarter is quite deaf and had his back turned in the direction from which the car was approaching, and of course neither saw the car nor heard the ringing of the bell.

Motorman Sparke says he was running very slowly and thought Mr. McCarter was far enough from the rall to escape or some of the others in the group would have warned him of the approach of the car.

Mr. McCarter's faithful dog was with him when the accident happened and very strongly objected to the men who went to his assistance, touching his master.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSOCIATION Interesting Addresses in the Afternoon and Evening-A Supper and Social

The exercises at the convention of the Middletown Sunday School Association, yesterday afternoon, were of a very interesting character and it is pelieved much information of value to teachers and workers was obtained from the various addresses and discussions.

The programme as published yesterday was carried out. The interval between the afternoon and evening sessions,-from 5:30 to 7:30 o'clock was spent in a social way. Committees from the several schools composing the association had provided a bountiful repast which was disposed of. Mr. C. W. Cooper presided at the table and called for after dinner speeches. Among those who responded were District Secretary E. W. Hawley, last term of court and sentence was Field Secretary E. P. St. John, Mr. Geo. H. Archibald, of Montreal; Rev. Dr. W. A. Robbinson, Rev. J. W. Norris, Rev. P. M. Jackson, Elder D. L. Conkling and Rev. Dr. Charles Beattle.

THE HOGAN BOILER COMPANY.

Ready for Active Operations-Re organized With Increased Capital-The New Officers Public Test of the New Boiler.

Very little has appeared in print concerning this company for some time past, but a very large amount of work, preparatory to active operations, has been accomplished since New Year's. The company has now ready for the market boilers of various capacities and sizes for many different purposes. Some orders have already been received, on which work is at present in progress, and propositions are out on a very large amount of very important work.

In the time mentioned the company has also been re-organized, under a new charter, although retaining the same name, with a capital stock of $300,000, full paid. At the election of officers, which occurred a short time since, the following gentlemen were chosen for the several positions.

President-William D. Stratton. Vice-President-George N. Clem-

Treasurer—C. Macardell. Secretary—S S. Mallett.

The company has acquired the patents under which the Hogan vertical water tube boiler is built, and will, therefore, have no royalties to pay. It has likewise secured the fo eign patents on this boiler and has come into possession of other valuable rights.

We learn that it is the intention of the company to throw open its works at an early date to a large number of invited guests, in order to show engineers, steam users and representatives of the technical press, just what is being done, and to afford a practical demonstration of the truth of the remarkable statements which the company is putting forth concerning the economy and efficiency of the Hogan boiler.

GRASPING AT A STRAW.

An Appeal From the Decision of the Builville Quarterly Conference to Be Taken to Conference.

It is understood that Dr. Darwood. or those acting for him, are preparing an appeal from the decision of the decision of the quarterly conference at Bullville, in the case of Mrs. E. C.

It is said that the appeal will be based on the unsatisfactory decisions of Presiding Elder Mickle, and will be made to Bishop Newman.

It has been suggested that the object of the appeal is to prejudice the standing of the Presiding Elder before the conference, and incidentally to help the case of Di. Darwood, which will come up at this session of the conference.

Such methods seem more like the tricks of politicians than the straigtforward course that would be expected of representatives of a Christia n church.

Venture-Supervisors' Building Com mittee in Town. From Our Regular Correspondent

-Last night, the Goshen bowlers added enother victory to the many scored by them during the past year. This time the Powel on Club's team, of Newburgh, were the victims. The team arrived in town on the Orange County Express, and after taking supper at the St. Elmo Hotel, repaired to the alleys of the Goshen Social and Athletic Club for the contest, every member of the team having the utmost confidence in their ability to win an easy victory over the county seat bowlers. The Goshenites were equally confident of success. The visiting team played well, but they soon discovered that they were not in it with Captain Howell's team, and their confidence dropped down to zero. They were defeated in two straight games, the totals being as follows: first game, Goshen 807, Newburgh 690; second game, Goshen 777, Newburgh 670. The Powelton Club team was composed of Hon. Howard Thornton, James G. Graham, Jr., H. M. Waring, Robert King and Charles Low. After the games the remainder of the evening was spent in social intercourse and pleasantries. The visitors remained at the St. Elmo over night, and returned to the Hill-ide City this morning. The return game will be played at Newburgh, on Saturday evening,

TRICKS WITH CARDS.

A REMARKABLE EXHIBITION BY A NON-PROFESSIONAL.

A Wealthy Cincinnati Business Man Entertained the Hamilton Whist Club of Philadelphia With Tricks Which Have Mystified Kellar and Berrmann.

What was regarded by experts as the most marvelous exhibition of card magio ever seen at Philadelphia was given at the Hamilton Whist club by Thomas B. Arnold of Cincinnati. A formal reception was given by the Hamilton club to Mr. Arnold, who, in return for the hospitality tendered him, entertained his hosts with a series of most remarkable card tricks.

Mr. Arnold is a well known Cincinnati business man, being a member of the wholesale shoe firm of Alter, Julian

He is not a professional magician, but his tricks have mystified such men trained in magic as Kellar and Herrmann. He has refused fabulous sums which have been offered aim to go before the public as a professional, preferring a quiet, domestic life to any notoriety he might gain as a magician.

Mr. Arnold opened the eyes of his witnesses by what he calls a very simple trick. Two new packs of cards belonging to the club were produced. He had never seen them before. Shuffling one deck, he held it out to one of the gentlemen present, saying: "Select a card from this pack and then return it, keeping the card in your mind. I will turn my back to you as you make your selection. One of the other gentlemen will take the second pack and torow it on the floor The only card that will fall face upward will be the card se lected by you. I will not touch either one of the decks.

The card was selected, and the gentleman threw the second pack on the floor. the nine of diamonds being the only card that fell face apward. "That," ex-claimed Mr. Arnold, "is the card you selected."

A cheer greeted the announcement that that was correct.

"Now, here is a good one," said the entertainer. Pointing to Charles Yar-nall, he continued: "Will you kindly select a card in your mind? Do not mention its name."

When the selection was made, he pick ed up a pack, shuffled it carelessly, and walking over to the wall threw the cards at a picture. They fell in a shower to the floor.

"Turn the back of the picture out ward," said Mr. Arnold. When this was done, a card was seen sticking in a crack in the back of the frame. It was the jack of spades. "That, sir, is the card you had in mind."

Mr. Yarnall acknowledged that i was, and the crowd was convulsed.

Again, a member of the company was asked to take a card in his mind. Four others were asked to take cards at random from the pack and remember the numerical value of the card. The spectator who drew the first card was told to write the number on a sheet of paper. The second man wrote the number of man placed his number under the second one and added the two together, affixing the result to the first number. The fourth man affixed the number of his card to the other two numbers. The result was 374. "Now," said Mr. Arnold, "will two gentlemen accompany me to the library, each of them holding one of my hands. A third can come along to see fair play.'

They returned bringing a book. "Turn to page 374," ordered the entertainer. The book was opened at the page indicated, and a card was found. It was the dence of spades. "That is your card," said Mr. Arnold to the gentleman he had asked to make a selection. The statement was correct.

The most remarkable trick of all was the last. Captain Walton, president of the American Whist Players' league, was asked to draw a card from the pack, replacing it and keeping the card in his mind. Mr. Arnold took an egg, selecting one at random from a half dozen, and broke it into a tumbler. He showed first that neither the shell nor the inner skin of the egg had been broken. No card was concealed up his sleeve or anywhere about his person. When the egg was broken, a card was seen in the tumbler, crumpled up and covered with the yolk of the egg.

Drawing it out, Mr. Arnold asked, What card did you draw, Captain Walton?"

"The queen of clubs." "There it is." The pack was searched and that particular card found miss

Although an export on cards, Mr. Ar nold never played a game for a stake in his life. "I could make a fortune as a gambler," said he, "for I can deal a man any hand I choose, but I wouldn't dare to play out in our western country, for I would be shot sure as fate. I don't know what it is that enables me to do these tricks. I studied them all out myself, but I can't explain how or why I do them."-Philadelphia Times.

CLEVER AMERICAN MECHANICS.

Their Ingenuity In Woodwork Attracting Attention In Foreign Countries.

The mighty advance in wood working machinery in the United States has evoked surprise everywhere. In America the idea is to make averything of wood without hand labor, automatically where possible. This desire has been so successful that it is a rare exception a factory is found employing handwork. Every known description of woodwork, out of every kind of wood, is made entirely of machinery. Many of these machines are veritable wonders, performing their work with a readiness and accaracy that excite the most profound attentron. Some of the English experts say of them that they are the best examples of ingenuity ever produced, but of a lighter construction than the English make. But one must bear in mind that American iron, when cast into form, is very much tougher and hence does not require so much of it to give their machines strength and solidity. This is hardly true or Euglish iron, and in consequence their machines contain a great deal more weight in iron and consequently look more massive, but by experience it has been proved conclusively that the latest improved American machines are just as strong and just as capable in durability as those made by the English makers.

Progressive English manufacturersand there are a few of them-are gradually waking up to the fact that if they want to hold their own in the commerce of the world they will be compelled, through necessity, to employ the later and more economical methods to produce their manufactures. To do this they will have to turn to the Americans, much as it may be against their inclinations. American furniture, made entirely with machinery, is now getting a foothold in England and attracts the admiration of English buyers not only for its beautiful designs and finish, but for the superb construction, and lastly it can be obtained at a moderate price. Other articles of wood for domestic vehicles, agricultural, building uses, etc., are fast creeping in to the disadvantage of the English manufacturer. Indeed wherein the American manufacturer succeeds it is only through the use of machinery, and therefore the Englishman, in order to protect himself from encroachment, must adopt the American idea by using American machinery, for is it not a fact that the Englishman is behind the times in getting "up to date" wood working machinery? If this statement is not correct, show us the fallacy of it. Machinery saves time and labor, consequently money. - Cincinnati Commercial Ga-

Babies and Babies. "I remember very well when Charlie, my oldest, was a baby he was simply angelic. I was sometimes tempted to pinch him, just to see if he could cry. He slept hour after hour and always awoke with a smiling face and a cooing voice. And I, silly young thing that I was, plumed myself on what an excellent mother I was and felt a deep contempt for all mothers of crying babies. But I was doomed to have a fall. When Willie came, I don't think there was ever a more sensitive bunch of nerves existed. He cried, it seemed to me, continually and woke from his fitful sluinbers on the lightest pretext, and I was ready to run to the gate when I saw visitors coming to apologize for what I had said in the past and to ask them please to walk softly. I then learned that there are babies and babies, and physical conditions have everything to do with a child's temperament."-Womankind.

Blood Poison

THE BANE OF HUMAN LIFE,

Driven Out of the System by the Use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"For five years, I was a great sufferer from a most persistent blood disease, none of the various medicines I took being of any help whatever. Hoping that one, I went to Cuba, to Fiorida, and then to Saratoga Springs, where I remained some time drinking the waters. But all was no use. At last, being advised by several friends to try Ayer's Sarsaparilia, I began taking it, and very soon favorable results were manifest. To-day I consider myself a perfectly healthy man, with a good appetite and not the least trace of my former complaint. To all my friends, and especially young men like myself, I recommend Ayer's Sarsaparilia, if in need of a perfectly reliable blood-paritier."—Jose A. It is Injurious To Stop Suddenly

And don't be imposed upon by buying a remedy that requires you to do so, as it is nothing more than a substitute. In the sudden stoppage of the use of tobacco you must have some stimulant, and in most all cases, the effect of the stimulant, be it opium, morphine, or other opiates, leaves a far worse habit contracted. Ask your druggist about "BACO-CURO." It is purely vegetable. You do not have to stop using tobacco with "BACO-CURO." It will notify you when to stop and your desire for tobacco will cease. Your system will be as free from nicotine as the day before you took your first chew or smoke. An ironclad written guarantee to absolutely cure the tobacco habit in all its forms, or money refunded.

Dear Sirs—I have been a tobacco fiend for many years, and during the past two years have smoked fifteen to twenty cigars regularly every day. My whole nervous system became affected, until my physician told me I must give up the use of tobacco for the time being at least. I tried the so-called "Keeley learned of your "Baco-Curo," Three weeks

Gentlemen—Last summer I furnished Mr.
James Reid, of the town of Buruside, Trempealeau Co., with three boxes of your "Baco-Curo."
He had chewed tobacco for over forty years, and the last year used over sixty-five pounds.
He commenced using "Baco-Curo" and one box did not have the effect, when he had used about one-half of the second box, he began to lose his taste for tobacco, and when he had used one-half of the third box he had lost all his appetite for it, and is now entirely cured.

You will feel as though you had escaped an awful doom, and you have, when cured by "Baco-Curo," for you feel like a new being. I never felt better in all my life than at this present writing. I did not know what was the matter with me, until informed by the agent. He told me what was the reason I could not do anything unless under the influence of the death-dealing poison found in cigarettes. I did not believe him at first, until he explained the action on the system. That I bought the goods and thank God and all concerned. I am a sound person to-day. Hoping this may reach the unfortunate cigarette mother, I remain. Yours respectfully.

She Might Have Done It Herself, but

Alice Was So Mean. "I haven't seen you with Alice lately," remarked the girl whose roses matched her cheeks. "Is it that your street gowns do not harmonize, or can it bo a matter of temper? "You have not seen us together nor will you," firmly replied the girl with the velyet sleeves. 'It is not a matter of gowns, but of principle. Alice is a cat—a mean, spiteful, malicious cat.'

'Humph! Her fur seems to be in very good condition, judging from what I saw. ?? "Don titell me what you saw unless you met her in a high wind without a veil trying to be a Gibson girl. You didn't? Well, then, just listen while I tell you what she

"Dear me, I hope it is something very bad," fluttered the girl whose roses matched her cheeks. "I haven't been very well of late and the doctor says my system needs toning up " "It is. You know that Jack Bittersweet has jilted Julin? I never could understand what he saw in her anyhow myself, but he kept her from pouching on other people's preserves, so '--

"She's taking it very hard too. The reason I know it is that she is making desperate efforts to secure Jim, and no girl who had not suffered a keen disappointment would"---

"M'hm. Well, I was at Alice's when the news came that it was off. You know before he became engaged to Julia Jack used to divide his attention pretty evenly between Alice and myself. Well, I knew Alice, so I told her plainly that we ought to punish him for treating poor Julia so badly, as well as for having engaged himself to her in the first place. She demurred at first, but I talked her round by arguing that women should stand by each other. She is always talking about the sympathy of sex, you know, so she had to agree. We made a solemn compact then and there to snub Jack as he deserved." "And did you?"

"Well, it was this way: After I got home I fell to thinking it over, and I be-gan to feel sorry for poor Jack, especially as he might not, after all, have been to blame. Besides papa told me that he had been making a great deal of money lately. You know, a man with plenty of money is more apt to be led astray, and there was no knowing what he might do if I snub-bed him severely. Finally I decided to send for him and give him a little—a—sisterly admonition."

"Of course." "So the next morning I wrote him a note asking him to drop in for a cup of tea and a chat at 5 o'clock, when I would be alone."

"And did he come?"

"No. He replied that a previous engagement would prevent, but that he hoped to have the honor soon. Somehow I felt uneasy, so I went over to Alice's. I wanted to have her under my eye. It was about 4 o'clock, and the housemaid said she was out. There was a queer look in her eye. however, so I just told her that I would step in and get a book I had left on the library table the day before."
"Well?" breathed the other girl.

"Alice was there, and Jack was on the sofa beside her. 11

"Oh! Well, perhaps she was only giving him a little sisterly lecture."

"Humph! From the looks of things it was very different from the ones she gives her own brother. At any rate she fairly cowered under my look of righteous indig-

"But-but you had written for him to come to see you."

"That was a very different matter," firmly replied the girl with the velvet sleeves. "I feel that I shall never be able to trust Alice any more."—Chicago Tribune.

COAL RAILROADS DISACREE.

Ontario and Western and Susquebanna and Western Insist on Larger Allotments.

The presidents of the anthracite coal carrying railroads met, yesterday, to settle percentages of output. Nothing was accomplished because the Susquehauna and Western and Ontario and Western, new factors in the could trade, insisted on a larger allotment of business than the old comparies were willing to concede,

In June last, which showed the largest output of any month, the Ontario and Western shipped 3 25 per cent, of the total output and the Susquehanna and Western 4 52 per cent The matter of allotments was referred back to a sub-committee to report at a subsequent meeting.
